The only thing determined by the show ring, however, is beauty of form, and generally it is one man s judgment that places the animals in the ring. If he is a man who considers dairy ability in the animals there is a lesson to be learned, but how often do we see this? In this connection, however, an experience is cited by George T. Slade of Minn., which would seem to disprove the theory that dairy cattle should be judged in the light of cold figures of the authenticated test and not placed in the show ring on form. Mr. Slade says: At the first fair at which I ever exhibited, I bought a heifer, largely on form, which had won first place in her classes for two years, and...
